Decatur, Ill., Nov. 24, 1875.

Dr A. J Howe, of Cincinnatti, has the following to say of the prevailing horse disease

"On a recent visit to the country my attention was called to a horse that was down with the prevailing horse disease In the deep cavity of the ears were larvae (maggots) of some kind of fly They were thriving numerously in a collection of muco purulent matter that existed there These I did not regard as a cause of the disease, but as a sequence, the purpulency affording an attractive habitat for the deposit of the eggs I recommended that fish oil be put in the ears of diseased animals to destroy the larvae, which must prove a source of annoyance and even death. The farmers stated that many horses were similarly affected; and some believe that the maggots were an essential feature of the disease.

We are assured by the Oldest Inhabitant in a communication to an Eastern paper, not one person in a hundred knows what the Indian Summer is. According to this Oldest Inhabitant, a cold rain generally sets in in this latitude after the leaves have all fallen from the trees. After rain a bitter frost follows, fermenting and decomposing the fallen vegetation. Great heat is generated by this decomposition, which adds warmth to the earth, causing that warm misty atmosphere which generally prevails in November It is during this season that the Indians were wont to lay in their corn for the winter and the old settlers thus fixed the name of "Indian summer" upon it There is not much poetry in this explanation, but it doesn't at all effect the pleasantness of the season. The genial warmth is present, and whether it comes from rotted leaves or not, it is cheerful all the same

The Williamsburg (New York) undertakers are excited in regard to the operations of a journeyman coffin maker who keeps a shop. It is discovered that he was in the habit of robbing cemeteries and grave yards of the coffins deposited in newly made graves It is stated that he would take a horse and wagon and go into the country a dozen miles, at night, to visit a cemetery where a corpse had been recently buried A boy always accompanied him and helped him to exhume the coffins The coffins would be removed from the rough box cases, the corpse taken out of the coffin and put in the rough box and re-interred The coffin, thus procured, would be taken to the city and sold to some undertaker. The offender, whose name is William Blake, has been arrested and sees the penitentiary before him

An old lady residing in Ohio lost the companion with whom she had jogged for many years She neglected to mark the spot of his burial by even a stone. Not long after coming into possession of a small legacy, a sister of the deceased said to her "I suppose you will now put up stones for Daniel?" Her answer was a settler "If the Lord wants anything of Daniel at the resurrection, I guess he can find him without a guidebound.

When a young man capsizes on a peach skin in full view of a group of ladies at a window opposite, the expression of his face is not like that of Ajax defying the lightning, but rather like that of one who feels as if he would like to go and sit in the amen corner of a Methodist church

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Saturday Evening, Nov. 27.

PUBLIC attention has lately been called to the fact that, while there has been a heavy falling off in custom receipts during the past two years, the cost of collection has been largely increased for each of the last fiscal years. Thus it appears from reports of the treasury department that, as compared with the year 1872, there was a falling off last year of over $59,000,000 in receipts, while there was an increase in the cost of collection of over $78,000. Under the law the amounts received from fines penalties, forfeitures, drayages, storages etc., are applied to the expenses of collection; and it is stated that since the repeal of the Moiety law, the receipts from penalties, forfeitures, &c. which are devoted to the payment of the cost of collection, have fallen off at least 33 per cent. Compared with 1874, there was a falling off in receipts from fines forfeitures, drayages etc., of over $450,000. The decline of receipts from these resources is given as one of the chief causes that makes a reduction in the cost of collection now imperative. The custom receipts for the current year, thus far are even below those of the corresponding year, and unless there is a reduction of expenses made there will be a deficiency of appropriation on June 30 next, of at least three quarters of a million dollars. Secretary Bristow, we are told, recognizes the fact, and will take measures either to reduce the present force in the custom houses, or cut down the salaries of those who are now employed.

THE Cincinnati Commercial says of the independent voter. The evident capacity of the people to back down whichever party is most impudent and odious, is a reassuring indication of the presence of that intelligence upon which we must depend for the stability of our institutions. The independent voter is abroad in the land, and is doing well. The Democrats had only to behave themselves after their victory last fall, to have won the next Presidency. That was precisely what they could not do. They exposed their true inwardness in the State, and the verdict is against them. The Republicans have the next Presidency in their hands at this writing, with much to hope from the Democratic house.

TWO FLORAL MARVELS.—The Horticulturist gives an account of two novelties among flowers, which it is almost tempted to treat as fables until their verity is established by personal inspection. The following is the description of them: "One is a black lily in Santa Clara, Cal., with three large blossoms, each nine inches long, and perfectly black outside the green petals. The other is to be seen at Constantinople, and described by an eye-witness as belonging to the narcissus genus of bulb. The flower represents a perfect humming bird. The breast, of a perfect emerald green, is a complete copy of this bird, and the throat, head, beak, and eyes are a perfect imitation. The hinder part of the body and the two outstretched wings are of a bright rose color, one might also say flesh colored. These wondrous bulbs should have been sent to the Vienna exhibition. They will be in abundance by the time of our Centennial celebration in 1876. And yet they can hardly be greater curiosities than the strange and mysterious "Sancta Spirita" flower from South America, with its life-like representation of doves."

New York against the world for high toned idiots. This is the latest wrinkle among the aristocratic wrinklers. One of the select goes to the theatre with a female of his species; previous to which he drops either personally or by mail, an order to a confectioner for such and such confections at a certain theater, between specified acts, seat and number so and so. Promptly at that place and hour appears a liveried page bearing the sweets, and the two proceed to suck candy during the balance of the performance, or as long as the candy lasts. This is a good idea—for fools. Bull's eyes, gum drops or jujube will assist materially in worrying through two or three hours where, the fare being simply intellectual, time must go very heavily with them. If there is any other inanity yet to be discovered, these creatures will soon drag it to light.

THE new constitution of Alabama "relieves the state from oppressive taxation for school purposes," by having no clause such as the old constitution contained, compelling support to the public schools. The oppressiveness of the tax may be guessed at when it is stated that the total annual school tax before collected amounted to 85 cents a scholar—less than a third of what other Southern states pay. This action is quite in keeping with the Democratic policy of Alabama.

How was it that Captain Boyton had such a very heavy weight to carry when he crossed the English Channel? Because as soon as he laid on his back his backers laid on him.

THE BEGINNING OF BETTER TIMES

The prosperity of trade depends on the condition of the classes who are engaged in production. In the United States the agricultural class of producers far surpasses in importance any of the others. If we can show that the condition of the farmers and planters is an improving one it will follow that a corresponding improvement will before long be manifest in the general trade of the country. When we speak of men in masses of millions, as we must in discussing the affairs of such a nation as the United States, we necessarily have to disregard a multitude of exceptions to the general rule. Taking the farmers and planters, we do say that there is ample statistical proof of the fact that they are better off than they have been at any time for three years past. We point, in the first place, to the quantities of wheat, corn, cotton, beef, cheese hams and bacon exported; in the second place to the prices obtained for those articles, not in the port of New York, but at the places where they were produced, for the farmer has had the advantage for over a year of internal freights, low beyond precedent; the third place to the lower rate of wages at which farmers and planters have this year procured their labor; and in the fourth place to the fact which naturally follows from the three already mentioned, that the import of tea, coffee and sugar have been larger in the fiscal year, ended with June last, than in any previous year in the history of the country. In her dealings with the United States Great Britain has proved a good customer. While our imports from the British Isles have been enormously curtailed, our exports to those regions have greatly increased since the close of the year 1872. In either of the three calendar years 1873, 1874 and 1875, we have found a market for more grain in Great Britain than we ever did before. Much of that grain has gone to reduce indebtedness, but, nevertheless, the farmers who produced it have been paid for it, and well paid for it, too.—New York Tribune.

THE PAPER-COLLAR NUISANCE.

But there is even a graver accusation, says the New York Times, to be brought against the paper collars. The man who once begins to wear them continues to shed them daily. They are furnished with a tough spinal column of muslin, and are thus rendered nearly indestructible. The result is that the wearers of paper collars are gradually covering the surface of the earth with a new geological stratum which every year grows deeper and broader. The discarded paper collar lurks in the closets and corners of boarding houses, where it mocks the honest servant girl who hastily picks it up under the delusion that she has found an available article of portable property. It eddies around the back yard, dancing before the breeze, and luring the passing cat to pause and notice eligible platforms for nocturnal concerts, which she otherwise might never have observed. It lies in wait on the sidewalk, and taking surreptitious passage beneath the skirts of passing beauty, emerges to view upon crowded corners, to the confusion of the innocent victim. If thrown into drains, the discarded paper collar joyfully braces itself to the work of choking the pipe. If tossed into the fire, its muslin internal structure burns slowly, giving off vast quantities of odorous smoke. In the upper part of the city it nourishes the predatory goat, who, having thus formed a taste for clothing, proceeds to gratify it by lunching on the skirts of unwary children, and by dining with a select party of invited guests off accessible clothes lines. Cast into the river, the paper collar refuses to sink, but floats with the tide until it is stranded on some otherwise romantic shore, which it straightway makes vulgar by its presence. It is a repulsive falsehood while it is worn, but it is a vast and imperishable nuisance when it is thrown away.

ONE of the most striking illustrations of the value of a judicious protection of home manufactures is furnished by an eastern iron firm, which has after many experiments and the outlay of much money, succeeded in producing a sheet iron in every respect equal to the best Russia, and so much cheaper that it is running the foreign product out of the market. Russia iron has for a great many years held the first place in all countries. Imitations have been made of it in England and in this country, but they would not stand the heat and wear like the genuine article, and soon lost their polish and value. But a judiciously regulated duty on the foreign product, gave to manufacturers a chance to experiment without the certainty of being overwhelmed before they had time to work their way to the perfection of skill and economical processes of older countries. Competition and invention were encouraged to effort, and the result is a great success which will render this country independent of foreign supplies of an indispensable commodity, while furnishing our farmers an enlarged market right at home for the food which otherwise they would have to sell in London or Liverpool against the competing grains of every agricultural country in Europe. Every new industry that protection nourishes into activity here is a new advantage to the farmer and to every occupation that supplies the ordinary wants of workingmen. It creates a new market, makes more consumers, raises prices, makes the country self dependent and self-supporting. There is no certain source of prosperity for all classes, farmers especially, as a diversity of industries, and that can't be made in a new country without protection.—Indianapolis Journal.

HENRY WILSON.

His Funeral Obsequies at the Capitol.

INTERESTING CEREMONIES AT BALTIMORE.

Foul Murder in Chicago.

TWO NEGROES HUNG IN MISSISSIPPI.

'Beware of Sisters-in-Law!'

WASHINGTON, November 26.—The rotunda of the Capitol was thronged all day, yesterday, with people anxious to see the body of the late Vice President, which lay in a glass casket decorated with flowers. On the plate is the simple inscription, "Henry Wilson, born February 16, 1812. Died November 22, 1875."

The funeral of Vice President Wilson took place in the Senate chamber at half past ten, this morning. Although the weather was very unfavorable, the crowd was great, and many were unable to gain admission to the building after 10 o'clock. The Senate chamber was heavily draped in mourning, and immediately in front of the Vice President's table the catafalque was placed, the desks having been all removed from the chamber. Seats were arranged on the floor for the President and Cabinet, Supreme Court, members of the Senate and House of Representatives, and other prominent persons.

At 10.22 the body was taken from the rotunda to the Senate chamber. The casket was carried by twelve soldiers, and as soon as it was placed on the catafalque prepared for its reception, two privates of the Marine Corps, in full uniform, took position at the head and foot and stood "at rest" throughout the entire service. Numerous crosses and crowns of white flowers, sent to the Capitol, this morning, by friends of the deceased, were placed on the coffin.

As the body was brought in the chamber all persons upon the floor arose and Rev. Dr. Sunderland read the passage, "Lord make us to know thy ways," etc., and other selections from the Scriptures. Soon after the casket was placed in the catafalque, the President, accompanied by Secretaries Fish, Bristow, Belknap, Robeson, and Chandler, entered. The committee of arrangements and Massachusetts committee, occupied seats immediately in the rear of the Supreme Court, and behind them were nearly all the members of the diplomatic corps, headed by Sir Edward Thornton, who is dean, or oldest continuous member of the corps, and behind them were citizens of Massachusetts, temporarily residing in Washington. On the other side of the chamber the relatives of the deceased were seated, in the rear of the President, and next to them members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Among others on the floor, were Adjutant General Townsend, Quartermaster General Ingalls, Judge Advocate General Holt, and Assistant Judge Advocate General Dunn, and other army officers. The chair of the Vice President was vacant and heavily draped in mourning. T. W. Ferry, of Michigan, president, pro tem, of the Senate, occupied the seat at the clerk's desk. The officers of the Senate and of the committee of arrangements, wore white silk sashes, gathered on the left shoulder, in black and white rosettes. In spite of very inclement weather, the larger part of those present were ladies. Among those in the diplomatic gallery, were Mrs. Grant Mrs. Fish, Mrs. Belknap, and Mrs. Bristow.

All being in readiness, Mr. Ferry announced that the services would now begin. Rev. Dr. Sunderland, standing at the clerk's desk, then read a brief selection of Scripture, after which Rev. J. E. Rankin delivered an eloquent discourse. After the address, prayer was offered, and the benediction pronounced by Dr. Sunderland.

Senator Sherman then addressed the Massachusetts committee as follows.

Gentlemen of Massachusetts:—The funeral ceremonies at the national capital, over the remains of the late vice president are here concluded, and we now deliver them to you, to carry them to the state of which he was a citizen, and by which he was so much honored, and which honor he so well deserved. In the performance of your mournful duties, you will carry with you the sympathies of the nation, and everywhere meet with sincere marks of respect for the illustrious dead.

The coffin was then closed and the funeral cortege proceeded to the depot of the Baltimore & Potomac railroad.

Baltimore, Nov. 26.—The funeral train bearing the remains of the late vice-president, was met here at the depot by the first brigade of infantry, the fifth and sixth regiments and a body of sailors and soldiers of the late war. Notwithstanding the rain, the vicinity of the depot was densely crowded. Immediately after the arrival, the casket containing the remains of Wilson was borne to the hearse, and the procession then formed in the following order: Platoon of policemen, under Capt. Earhart, sixth regiment, six companies strong, in full dress uniform, preceded by band and drum corps, soldiers and sailors of the late war, one hundred strong, and a detachment of post seven G. A. R., fifth regiment, ten companies, with band and drum corps, and carriages containing members of committees from Washington. The hearse containing the casket, drawn by four black horses and guarded by an escort of marines under Capt. Haycock, five carriages with members of the committee, and escort cortege, moved from the depot, to the funeral dirge, along Charles street to Baltimore street. At the city hall and vicinity, fully 5,000 people awaited the procession. On its arrival the escort was drawn in line, the hearse then moved forward and halted at the eastern entrance, regiments presenting arms. The casket was borne from the hearse and placed on the bier in the rotunda, which was tastefully draped in mourning.—The doors were then thrown open and the vast crowd passed through the rotunda for an hour and a half, taking a last look at the remains of the vice president. About 5:30 the casket was closed, the line of march again formed, and the remains placed on the train, which left for Philadelphia at 6:25.—During the ceremonies in the city the bells were tolled. There was every demonstration of respect to the deceased.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 26.—The Commercial of to-morrow morning will contain an article on Chief Justice Waite and the Presidency, embracing an extract from a private letter from that gentleman in answer to one from a friend urging his assent to a movement on his behalf in that connection. The Judge positively refuses such assent, giving his reasons therefor. He says:

"Of course, I am always grateful to my friends for any efforts in my behalf, and no one ever had friends more faithful or indulgent; but do you think it quite right, for one occupying the first judicial position in the land, to permit the use of his name for political position? The office came to me covered with honor, and when I accepted it my chief duty was, not to make of it a stepping-stone to something else, but to preserve its purity, and, if possible, to make my name as honorable as that of my predecessors. No man ought to accept this place unless he shall take a vow to leave it as honorable as he found it. There ought never to be any necessity for rebuilding from below. All additions should be made above. In my judgment the constitution might wisely have prohibited the election of a Chief Justice to the Presidency. Entertaining such a view, could I consistently permit my name to be used for the promotion of a political combination as now suggested? If I should do so could I at all times and in all cases remain an unbiased Judge in the eyes of the people?

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A notorious bad character, known as Hank Davis, last night shot and almost instantly killed Charles D. Whyland, one of the proprietors of the St. Elmo restaurant, on Dearborn street. Whyland had attempted to quiet a disturbance in which Davis and another man were engaged in his restaurant, when Davis followed him up and deliberately shot him, the bullet entering Whyland's cheek and penetrating to the brain. Davis was captured after an exciting chase, in course of which he shot at a policeman and intimidated a number of his pursuers. The grand jury of the criminal court is in session here, and will, it is stated, find an indictment against him immediately. Davis is a professional forger, and connected with the notorious gang of which Spence Pettis, Billy Brush and Ross Salisbury are the other members. The latter are now serving out a term at Pittsburg.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 26.—The Appeal's Sardis (Miss.) special says that Benj. Edwards and Oscar Truman, both colored, convicted at the September term of the Superior court for the murder of Lewis Hibbler, colored, were hung in the jail yard at 1:30 to day, in the presence of 4,000 people, three-fourths of whom were colored.

Freeman declined to say anything on the scaffold, while Edwards said:

"I warn you all to beware of sisters-in law. Mine has a better right than I do here," and asked all to pray for him, saying that he was accused wrongfully.

Three colored ministers were in attendance, one of whom gave out the hymn:

"Hark, from the tomb a doleful sound."

The both died without much struggling. Edward made a desperate attempt to escape last night. Freeman was to have been married soon, and committed the murder in order to get money therefor

ANTIQUARIAN.—On the property of a man living near Port Gibson Miss., the existence of a great number of blocks of cut stones has been known for an indefinite time, and the people in the neighborhood have used them for propping their houses. An explorer from Port Gibson, went out there the other day and brought a specimen to town. It is about three feet and a half long by twenty inches square, resembling a barrel of soap. This rock was taken from beneath the roots of a large pine tree, and formed a portion of a wall about twenty feet broad on the top which was traceable a distance of about 250 yards. It is supposed that this has been a city wall, or probably a portion of a fort, temple, or other building of antiquity.

The Daily Republican.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Saturday Evening, Nov. 27.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN will be delivered to subscribers in every part of the city, at Twenty Cents per week.

Local Notices will be inserted at Two Cents per line for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Rates for time advertisements will be furnished upon application at the office.

TO DAILY SUBSCRIBERS.

☞ Subscriptions to the DAILY REPUBLICAN will be collected every Saturday, at the places where the paper is delivered, unless otherwise ordered.

☞ We would be much obliged if our subscribers would inform the carrier at what particular place they desire their papers to be left.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

..Fresh oysters at D. M. Barnett & Co.'s.

..Billy Niedermyer has a store full of nice things. Call and see him.

..Fresh Malaga grapes at Imboden's.

..Choice chickens and turkeys, at Niedermyer's.

..The pork packers of our city are waiting for a decline in the price of hogs. They think it a little risky to put up pork with hogs at $7.00 per hundred.

..A number of wagons and considerable other property were sold at auction to-day on the streets by Muckley & Dodson.

..Our merchants are having a fair trade to-day, but not as heavy as that of last Saturday.

..It is said there are more lies told in the sentence, "I am glad to see you" than in any other six words in the English language.

..A "down-East editor" asks his subscribers to pay up, that he may play a similar joke upon his creditors.

..Now is the time for those of our merchants who have any special inducements to offer for the holidays, to advertise them.

..Mr. S. M. Stanley is now fairly installed in his new quarters, on East Main street, and has his splendid stock of groceries all in place. Everything about the establishment looks as neat as a parlor, and the goods are fresh and choice.

..All the luxuries of the season served up by McCrary at 30 cents per meal.

..Choice oysters at Nowell & Hammer's.

..Choice butter and fresh eggs, at Adams & Bondurie's.

..Bread of the very best quality, fresh and now, always on hand at Simpson's.

..One of the Benedicts of our city remarked to his wife the other evening, as he left home for the office: "I'll be back by ten o'clock if I don't meet with any serious pull-back." "It won't be well for you to meet any pull-backs, Daniel, serious or smiling, if I know of it," said his better half, in tones which indicated that she meant it.

..A little girl at school in Huron was told to put the word "year" into a sentence. After a moment's reflection she answered: "Last year my sister was married and this year she has a baby."

..All that is now necessary to make a dealer in agricultural implements smiling, contented and happy, is for him to make a trip through the country, and see the numberless reapers, mowers, cultivators, plows, etc., going to pieces, unprotected from the weather.

.."Humor" sometimes breaks out all over a man—generally at the close of the pancake season. It isn't such a funny thing, either.

..From all parts of the county we learn that corn shucking is well advanced, and some have entirely cleared their fields. The fact of corn harvesting being so nearly over, may account in part for the large attendance of people from the country in town to-day.

..The nicest the market affords in the line of carpets, window curtains and shades, may always be found at the warerooms of Abel & Locke. They have cords and tassels of every shade and hue, and wall-paper of almost numberless varieties, and in a word everything in their line as nice as can be obtained in Chicago or St. Louis, and at prices lower than in those cities.

..Sylvester Brothers have one of the neatest stores it has ever been our good fortune to see. Their groceries and provisions are all fresh, and in quality are A 1. Their assortment of fruits and fancy groceries is not excelled by any house in the State, and in the line of staple goods they have one of the largest stocks ever opened in Decatur. People will buy at a good place to trade.

Hog Cholera.—A correspondent gives the following recipe for hog cholera: Mix ship-stuff with soft soap and feed the hogs with it. They do not exactly relish the diet, but will come to it when they get right hungry. The same prescription is also recommended as a preventive and cure of chicken cholera.

His Answer.—Col. R. G. Ingersoll, of Peoria, having been invited to deliver his lecture on his European travels in Decatur, replies under date of Nov. 22, as follows:

"I am going to Washington, D. C., this week, and cannot positively say when I shall return, so that at present I cannot agree to accept your kind invitation. If I conclude to deliver any lectures this winter, I will write you again."

A New Stamp Holder.—Mr. C. M. Winner is in the city with a patent postage stamp-holder, which is an exceedingly convenient arrangement for carrying postage stamps in one's pocket, and should be possessed by every business man. He may be found at Priest's hotel.

200 Second-hand Stoves, for sale cheap, at Ashby's, opera block. dtf

Decatur Literary Society.—More persons were present at the meeting of the literary society last evening than expected by the members thereof, taking into consideration the inclemency of the weather and the fact that it was the evening following a holiday. The persons appointed to take part in the exercises were ready, and the meeting was a very pleasant one. Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen signed the constitution.

The programme for next Friday evening is composed of essays, declamations, select readings and a debate.

The following question was discussed last evening:

Resolved, That the classical course in our colleges is better adapted to the development of the mind for all practical purposes than the scientific course."

Decision in favor of the negative.

The members of this society extend a cordial invitation to all persons who may wish to attend, and become members if they choose, or remain as listeners.

Police Record.—Yesterday four dwellers in Niantic came to town with the intention of having a little jollification. Upon their arrival here the first thing was to charge up well with "benzine," the effect of which was in the first place to quicken their gait and let loose their tongues. In this condition they cavorted about town for awhile, but soon took a few more drinks around, which settled two of them upon the sidewalk, where they were found by the police and furnished lodgings in the first ward calaboose. This morning they interviewed Justice Hughes, who charged them three dollars and incidentals for their fun.—Upon retiring from the halls of justice they begged the Squire to enter on his docket against their names, "intoxication," instead of drunkenness, as they did not wish to degrade themselves or families by having it reported that they were drunk. This is what we should call a distinction without a difference.

A New Railroad Company.—We call attention to the time table of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield Railway, which appears in our columns to-day.—This new company absorbs the I. & I. C. Railway, and as we understand was organized for the purpose of finishing the road from Montezuma to Indianapolis, which we are informed is to be done with all possible dispatch. As the matter now stands the road is of but little use to anybody, and we sincerely hope that it may be carried through without delay.

Good Counsel.—The following advice from Thomas Jefferson to one of his numerous namesakes, is worthy of being printed in golden letters, and could it be adopted by the youth of our country, another decade would bring us to the millennium:

"Adore God. Reverence and cherish your parents. Love your neighbor as yourself. Be just. Be true. Murmur not at the ways of Providence. So shall the life into which you have entered be the portal to one of eternal and ineffable bliss."

A Birth-Day Present.—On her twentieth birth-day Miss Cecelia Bird received from Lawrenceburgh, Indiana, an elegant birth-day present, in the shape of an eighteen-pound golden cake, elaborately ornamented with silver and gold leaf, and roses of different hue.

To Grangers.—An exchange tenders the following advice to its young granger readers, and we copy it for the benefit of the numerous readers of the REPUBLICAN who belong to the same class:

"Now husk your corn, kiss a girl every time you find a red ear, and—bend your head while we whisper it—if you don't find red ears, a little judicious pinching will make them."

The Universalist Society hold services to-morrow at the usual hours, in court house block, in the hall opposite the county treasurer's office. In the evening the subject will be, "Religious alarm about science."

Baptist Church.—On to-morrow the Presbyterian congregation will unite with the Baptist at the church of the latter, and the pulpit will be filled both morning and evening by Rev. Robert Mackenzie.

First M. E. Church.—There will be preaching at this church to-morrow, at 10½ a. m. and 7 p. m., by the pastor, Rev. Horace Reed. Sermon in the evening to young men. Subject: The Influence of Association. All the seats free.

Rev. W. H. H. Adams.—Those of our readers who heard the above-named gentleman preach on the occasion of his occupancy of the pulpit of the First M. E. Church, about two months ago, will be pleased to learn that he is to occupy the pulpit of Stapp's Chapel to-morrow, both morning and evening.

Christian Church.—Preaching at the opera-house to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m., by the pastor. Subject for the evening discourse: "The Future of the Israelites."

Citizens' Association.—The regular annual meeting of the Citizens' Association will be held at the court-house, on Thursday evening next, Dec. 2d, at 7½ o'clock, p. m., for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may come before it. Every one interested in the future prosperity of Decatur is invited to be present. By order of the Board of Directors.

FINE FURNITURE.

Our manufacturing establishments are gaining quite a reputation abroad, and the superior quality of the goods they turn out is evidenced by the fact that more orders from a distance are coming in now than ever before. The goods manufactured by the Decatur Furniture Company have already achieved quite a reputation abroad, and it is no uncommon thing for the factory to receive orders for fine furniture from a great distance. We observed in the window of the salesroom this morning a magnificent sideboard, which, upon inquiry, we learned was made for a Mr. McCullough, a banker in Fort Wayne, Indiana, —son of Hon. Hugh McCullough, late Secretary of the Treasury. This elegant piece of workmanship is made of walnut, handsomely veneered, and of a design rather out of the ordinary style, but still very beautiful. As an article of use and convenience it is superior to any other similar piece of work we have ever seen, and unites in itself rare excellence, both as an ornament and as a thing of use. Those of our readers who admire fine furniture should see this elegant piece of work before it is shipped away, which will be within a few days.

The Two Orphans.—The opera house was well filled last night, on the occasion of the performance of "The Two Orphans," by Cogswell's Union Square Co. To say that everybody was pleased is the shortest form of speech we can employ to indicate the feeling of the audience. Mr. Cogswell, as the Chevalier, is the perfect personification of the polished French nobleman, while Silas Robinson, as Picard, the valet, is simply immense. Mr. M. J. Jordan's Pierre, the cripple, was as an artistic piece of acting as one would wish to see, and Mr. J. B. Everham's Jacques was perfect to the superlative degree. Ella Wren's Countess was as deserving as the former, and Miss Fannie Mathias, as the blind girl, Miss Hudson, as Henriette, Miss Everham, as sister Genivove, and last, though not least, Mrs. E. M. Post, as Frouchard, all showed themselves to be artists of great merit. The company throughout, in fact, is far above the average of traveling troupes, and we do not wonder that its success has been so great in all the cities visited, from Chicago to New Orleans.

This evening the "Two Orphans" will be repeated, and as it will probably be the last opportunity offered our citizens to witness the play which has created such a furore throughout the country, the house will doubtless be crowded.

Philip Bauer, in Central Block, on Merchant street, attends promptly to all orders for repairing and cleaning clothing; also, to cutting and making new work. First-class work done in all cases, and orders filled with despatch. Give him a call.

Getting Ready.—Sheriff Jennings and his deputies have been kept very busy during the present week serving papers preparatory to the opening of the December term of court, which takes place one week from next Monday. Yesterday was the last day of service; and, as people are inclined to put things off to the last minute, much business was crowded into the last day or two.

Ansback & Cassell lead the van in the restaurant business. All the luxuries of the season served up at short notice.

A Jug Overboard.—Yesterday as four jolly fellows from Niantic were making their way to town in a two-horse wagon, an empty jug, which they were bringing along for the purpose of getting a Sunday supply of "o-be-joyful," bounced out upon the road. The loss of the "little brown jug" was not noticed by them until their attention was called to it by some gentlemen who were driving behind them. Upon being informed of their loss one of them was for turning back to get it, but the other three agreed to make up a purse to buy another depository for "benzine," so on they came, bent upon having their good time anyhow. The police record tells the balance of the story.

READ THIS STATEMENT.

For the benefit of our patrons and all who are suffering from Liver Complaint or any form of Billious disease, we give the following statement of the case of one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Decatur—Mr. Wm. Lintner, of the firm of Wm. Lintner & Co., furniture and spring manufacturers:

Some eight months ago Mr. Lintner's health began to fail in consequence of billious derangement, and he gradually and steadily grew worse, until his recovery was entirely despaired of by his friends and many able physicians. At their suggestion, some three months ago, in company with his son, he went to New York and put himself under treatment at one of the best medical institutions to be found, bringing to the said all that money and science could command, but instead of encouragement, after three weeks' careful study of his case, Dr. Foster (Clifton Springs, N. Y.) told him his liver was almost entirely hardened and that his case was utterly hopeless, that no medicine could do him any good, and he advised him to return to his friends, arrange his business affairs, take no medicine, and live as comfortably as possible so long as he might, which could not be long. He was brought home, given up by all as beyond human aid. He laid in a gradually sinking condition, vomiting daily, and looking more like a corpse than a living man, when a friend whose wife had received great benefit from it, requested him to try Malarion, which he did, and he began to improve within a few hours after taking the first dose. His vomiting gradually ceased, his bowels became regular, and he grew stronger and better for three weeks, when his friends, becoming hopeful of his recovery, had a consultation, and finding out what he was taking they took Malarion from him and prescribed other medicines, which he took for about a week, when his old symptoms came back upon him, vomiting again set in, and he was forced to return to the remedy which first gave him relief, and since then he has taken no other medicine than Malarion. He has taken four bottles, and is to day nearly a well man, with more youthful vigor and buoyancy, and promise of better health than he has had for years, and he says unhesitatingly, "MALARION HAS SAVED MY LIFE!" SNYDER & GUE, General Agents for Malarion.

I hereby certify that the above statement of my case is correct and true.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

FOOT OF LAKE STREET,

Opposite Union Depot. CHICAGO.

THE ADAMS HOUSE, SO POPULAR before its destruction at the great fire of 1871, has been rebuilt, and is now open to the public. It is one of the largest, best in substantial and comfortable manner, but without the ginger-bread ornamentation, which is so expensive in a hotel, and so useless to the comfort of its guests. The table will furnish wholesome food, well cooked, the beds will always be clean, and the proprietors will in all particulars maintain a homelike, comfortable, quiet, orderly and sensible house, at the popular price of $2.00 per day.

We bespeak the patronage of the traveling community, feeling sure that the general character of the house will give entire satisfaction. BLENIS & MURPHY, Props's.
